

ALLIES LOSE GROUND ON GERMAN'S ADVANCE

FALL BACK FIVE MILES; BATTLE IS IN PROGRESS

London, April 24.—Over an arc-like front in Belgian Flanders is roughly ten miles long from the region of Bixshoote in the north to St. Eliot in the south, French, British and Belgian troops are locked with the Germans today in a series of engagements which recall the fighting of last October.

Driven from Hill No. 60 to the south of Ypres and failing to retake it, by a counter attack, the Germans launched a sudden advance northeast of the town, and after slaying and killing men in the first trenches with deadly gas, according to British official reports, they drove a wedge of infantry forward, forcing the French and Belgians back toward, and at some points apparently across, the Yser (Ypres) canal, a maneuver which at the same time compelled the British line north of Ypres to fall back to conform with the French.

Counter Attacks Win Back Portion of Territory
Although the advance of the Germans was considerable, extending, according to Berlin dispatches, over a front of five miles, French, Belgian and British forces—the French occupying the center, the Belgians the left and the British the right of the line—immediately initiated a counter attack the result of which was to compel the Germans to give up some of the ground they had taken, and force them in a northeasterly direction toward Langemarck from which place the attack started.

Believed To Be Effort To Get Into Calais
Some of the London newspapers today characterize this German rush as another attempt to break through to Calais, and some say they have 500,000 men available for this effort.

By this time the British are presumably well strengthened and have consolidated their position on Hill number 60. The hardest fighting, consequently is expected north of Ypres.

Campaign In East At A Standstill
Just as the Germans have been battering the Ypres held by the allies, so the French continue their pressure at St. Mihiel with some success. The campaign in the east continues at a standstill, and there has been no authentic news of the movements of allied troops in European Turkey.

Claims German Fleet Looking For English
Berlin, Apr. 24.—(Via London)—The newspapers of Berlin today express satisfaction with the outcome of the fighting at Ypres and say that it came up for what happened at Neuve Chapelle.

They are pleased also with the report of the German admiralty that the fleet had been cruising in the North Sea. The Tagis Zeitung says that so far as it is able to recall, earlier announcements of marine activity did not speak of a "German high sea fleet," as a whole but only of parts thereof.

This paper says Admiral Jellicoe, the British commander, has had his opportunity for a Trafalgar but he did not seize it.

Other newspapers asked scornfully where the supremacy of Great Britain at sea is to be found.

Cleveland, April 24.—Tony Marzetti, is dying in a hospital here from a severe knife wound inflicted, police say, by blackhanders. The man is under arrest.

ROBERTS IS IMPEACHED

Terre Haute, Ind., April 24.—Mayor Donn M. Roberts, recently found guilty with twenty-seven other Terre Haute men of conspiracy to corrupt the election here on Nov. 3, 1914, was impeached today by the city council by a vote of 7 to 3.

ASPHYXIATING BOMBS SPREAD FUMES OVER AREA OF TWO MILES

Paris, April 24.—The asphyxiating bombs used by the Germans in their attack near Ypres were thrown at numerous points along a front of three miles, according to information that has been brought to Paris. The contents of these missiles were largely chloride, mixed with other chemicals.

The Germans threw these bombs when the wind was blowing from them in the direction of the French trenches. The fumes caused uncomfortable breathing and a smarting of the eyes at a distance of nearly two miles behind the trenches, and they were so powerful that the Germans had to wait themselves a considerable time before they occupy the evacuated trenches.

MAKE ARREST IN L. & N. EXPRESS CAR ROBBERY

New Orleans, La., April 24.—A revolver and a mask were found here today near the spot where Harry Lester was arrested last night after the express car robbery after the express car, en route from Mobile to New Orleans, was robbed. The long-haired man who committed the robbery secured $50 and a master, was shot and seriously wounded. The police say they found an empty revolver holster on Lester, and that his body was bruised. They say he admitted having fallen from a train yesterday but said the accident occurred when he was stealing a ride from Mobile to New Orleans.

Prepare Additional Questions For T. R.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 24.—Council for William Barnes in his suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt took advantage of the week-end recess of the supreme court today to compile a series of additional questions to put the former president when his cross examination is resumed on Monday. Many of the questions agreed upon have to do with events leading to the establishment by the Colonel of the progressive party.

Ratliff Held Guilty Of Beating Wife

The hearing of Austin Ratliff, who was charged by Dan Buckley with disorderly conduct and alleged disturbing the peace, was resumed in police court Saturday morning.

Ratliff, his bride, sister and mother all clung to their original statements that he had not assaulted his wife but had merely hurt her arm in playing with her and that Mrs. Buckley precipitated the disturbance by calling him names and throwing a brick at him.

Mrs. Buckley testified that she had heard Ratliff slap his wife and heard his mother taking him to task for his act and denied that she had called him a wife beater, though upbraiding him for slapping his wife when he called her a wife name. It was then she threw the brick at him. The woman's daughter Maggie, who was in the Ratliff home having a waist fitted at the time of the alleged trouble, testified that Ratliff had censured his wife for coming to a saloon after him and had seen him slap her once. The court thought the girl differed somewhat in her testimony from that of her mother and this prompted Mr. and Mrs. Buckley to make the charge against their girl that she was not telling all that she knew and that she had been coaxed to shield the others.

They told of their efforts to break up her practice of visiting the Ratliff home.

Cyndrick Phillips, aged father of Mrs. Buckley, corroborated his daughter's testimony as to the disturbance inside the Ratliff home and waxed warm when he felt her veracity was being questioned, declaring hotly that he would accept her word just as readily as he would that of the court or any one else. The court finally found Ratliff guilty of the charge and assessed a fine of $20 against him.

Elmer Porter was held guilty of the charge of furnishing liquor to Lottie Craycraft and was fined $10. Frank Craycraft, who was arrested Saturday morning upon orders of the court, also admitted that it was Porter who had furnished two half pints of whiskey to him while he was a prisoner at the police station. Craycraft himself was scored by the court for misconduct generally.

Fines One And All

Loy Hazlett was fined $5 for loitering. Charles Howard was fined $5 for haggling on the streets and a man giving the name of Frank Kelley drew $5 for intoxication.

PLAN FOR BANQUET

Members of the committee appointed last Friday by Chairman Young to have charge of Governor Willie-Senator Harding banquet in this city on Saturday evening, May 15th met Friday evening at the offices of Bannan and Bannan in the First National bank building and discussed in detail the arrangements for the big affair. No definite conclusion was reached regarding any feature of the banquet, but final action will be taken on several matters at the meeting to be held at the same place, this evening.

The committee will use every effort to make the banquet one of state-wide importance.

Resident Engineer

The Ironstonian says: Mayor Hannan presented to the city council last night a suggestion that the council, whether the water works commission bill does or does not pass, employ Fred C. Locke as a resident engineer on the water works improvement and have him oversee every detail of the work.

"The mayor said that he would cheerfully recommend Mr. Locke."

Mile Of Paved Streets For New Boston

Active work on paving six streets in New Boston is expected to be started by June 16th. Ordinances of the city council, passed at the adjourned meeting of the village council Friday evening, "Ten days will have to elapse before two weeks' advertising for bids can be started, which will throw the letting of the contract about the last of May."

"With all members except Fred Easman present, council passed the following six ordinances:

To proceed with the improvement of Ohio avenue from the south property line of Gallia avenue to the south line of Grace street; West avenue from the south property line of Gallia avenue to the south curb line of Grace street; Oak street from the south property line of Harrisonville avenue to the west line of the Brookside addition; Center street from the south property line of Gallia avenue to the south curb line of Rhodes avenue; Vine street from the south property line of Gallia avenue to the south line of Grace street; Park street from the south curb line of Gallia avenue to the south curb line of Rhodes avenue."

Clerk Thomas O'Neal was authorized and directed to advertise for bids.

The total length of the six streets to be paved first is 4100 feet not quite a mile. An ordinance deeming it necessary to proceed with the improvement of Gallia pike will be passed at next meeting of council. Oak street is in Stewartville addition. Vine, Center and Oak streets are to be twenty-eight feet wide. Park thirty-six, Ohio thirty and West fourteen.

A motion was passed giving Lou Marsh the right to construct a four-foot sidewalk in front of his property on Vine street. The ordinance calls for an eight-foot walk on Vine street, but on account of a large fill which will have to be made he will not put the four foot additional walk down until after the line of Rhodes avenue is paved. Council will meet from the south property line of May 3rd.

New Boston Schools To Close On June 11

New Boston Board of Education held an important meeting Friday evening, following the adjourned session of council. Tom York was the only absentee.

Clerk Roy Coburn sold at public auction the four room, two story frame building on Ohio and Stanton avenues commonly known as the "Central" and "Ohio avenue" school to Mayor J. S. Davis on his bid of $200. Ex-Mayor Dave Lewis was the other bidder going as high as $195. The building is worth considerably more but was sold at that price with three members voting in favor of the sale.

Bills including the monthly payroll amounting to $1081.50 were allowed.

Contractor C. E. Nourse was allowed his first estimate amounting to $2650 on his contract of $18,339.25 for the building of a three room and auditorium addition to the Stanton avenue building.

On motion of John Noel, seconded by J. C. Harris, a motion passed at last regular meeting naming the Central National bank as depository for the board's funds, is to be reconsidered.

Clerk Coburn notified the board that the school enumeration according to law will have to be taken between the second and fourth Mondays in May. Roy Sutton who has done the work for the past two years, was named to do the work at two cents per head.

Marshal W. I. Davis was named as transient officer for the month of May at a salary of $20 per month. Miss Gertrude Schmidt, who has been filling the place of Prof. D. R. Davis, since his death, as teacher of music, in the two schools, was named to serve the rest of the term as musical instructor.

A representative of the D. A. Blythe Sanitary Manufacturing Company of Columbus, was present to explain the workings of the Blythe toilet and plumbing supplies with a view of having the Blythe fixtures put in the new addition to Stanton avenue school. The architect was instructed to draw plans and specifications and prepare estimates on the installing of Blythe supplies or their equal.

A meeting will be called next week to go over the architect's plans and estimates when advertisements will be ordered for bids for installation of sanitary fixtures.

Since the last meeting (which has been brewing over the use of Caray roofing on the new building instead of Manville roofing), a motion was passed at last meeting for the use of Manville roofing but as Contractor Nourse has already made a contract with the Caray company he asked the board to reconsider their motion. A motion was then made to use Caray roofing instead of Manville roofing.

Superintendent Sampson D. Eckhart was given power to arrange for commencement which comes on June 4th. School will close on June 11th. No arrangements have been made for a winter to deliver the bacchante sermon Sunday, May 30th. Commencement will be held as usual in the Casino at Millbrook park.

The board adjourned subject to call next week.

NEW BOSTON

Miss Edna Jenkins has returned after a short visit with Miss Bess Swaby of Lon Run.

West Stanton avenue residents complained to the police Friday evening of the noise made by two "belling" crowd at the Mrs. A. home. The serenaders had disappeared when Deputy Marshal Ike Wells arrived.

Several wagon loads of tile for the second floor of the addition to the Stanton avenue school arrived Saturday. Concrete for the first floor will be poured as soon as the structural steel is received.

Harry Smith, Gallia pike barber, was on the sick list Saturday.

Talmage Jones, 55 West Grace street, is having a bath room added to his home. Will Huff has the plumbing contract.

J. M. Palmer of Sciotoville will have charge of the Sunday evening services at the Christian church.

Garnet Noel has been ill for several days.

Cecil Snyder of Gallia pike is mourning the loss of a small shepherd dog which wandered away several days ago. Snyder is sure his canine will return if the party holding him will release him from custody.

Lawrence Fitch, Jr., son of Joe Fitch Gallia pike butcher, who had his right leg broken just above the ankle recently, is getting about on crutches.

Mrs. Flo Ach and George True were united in happy wedlock by Squire John Bryon Friday evening at eight o'clock at the home of the bride on West Stanton avenue. The bride wore a white crepe de chine dress trimmed in net and lace. A gorgeous bouquet of white carnations made the wedding gown complete. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richison were the best man and bride's maid. After the wedding ceremony a three course supper was served to over twenty guests.

Mr. True is a Whitaker-Glessner company employee while Mrs. Ach was employed as cook at the steel plant restaurant. The entire force of the rigging gang, of which True is foreman, formed a serenading party. It is the third time Mrs. Ach and Mr. True have embarked upon the matrimonial sea. They will go to housekeeping in one of W. T. Harr's houses on Stanton avenue.

The Cubs have put their diamond in fine shape and will play the Sciotoville nine Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon the Cubs and a city nine will play.

Finger Injured

Milt Surver, an employee of Freshour's grocery, on Gallia street, had the nail torn off the third finger of his left hand Saturday morning in trying to back the automobile truck of Edward Stuhler, the local commission merchant. His nail caught on a nut on the wheel. Surver was taken into Hoot and Blake's pharmacy, where he fainted when the injured digit was dressed. He later revived and resumed his work.

Plasterers began work Friday renovating the walls of the High House lobby.

The Dream

Young manhood, in Robert Blank personified, had just completed school in a village. The city beckoned.

He would go to a large and prosperous city, there carve a name and a career.

In dreams he saw his life in place—wealth, position, honors, all necessities, perfect service, there he would meet and greet his friends and by his manner prove it had not turned his back.

The Reality

Robert Blank did come to the city, and by dint of work and industry furnished second floor front room, electricity, bath, high-class board, fine location.

With the congenial atmosphere of this home, for club life he is getting what is a far better start in the world than club life could possibly give.

CANADIANS LOSE HEAVILY IN BRILLIANT ENGAGEMENT

London, April 24.—The war office today gave out the following official note:

"The fight for the ground into which the Germans penetrated between Steenstraat and Langemarck still continues. The loss of this part of the line laid bare the left of the Canadian division, which was forced to fall back in order to keep in touch with the right of the neighboring troops.

"In the rear of the latter had been four Canadian 4.7 inch guns which fell into the hands of the enemy, but some hours later the Canadians made a most brilliant and successful attack, recapturing the guns and taking a number of German prisoners, including a Colonel.

The Canadians had made many casualties, but their gallantry and determination undoubtedly saved the situation. Their conduct has been magnificent throughout."

William A. Kennard, of Third street, who had several fingers of his left hand severed in a recent accident at the Solby shoe factory, is now doing nicely.

Well and Strong?

"A short time ago," says Mrs. Paul Amyot, of Houghton, Mich., "I was in great pain, suffering from pleurisy. They told me I was swollen all over, and whenever I drew a breath, I would be cut by a pain. I do not hesitate to say that CARDUI saved my life. The first bottle relieved me, and stopped those ugly stabbing pains that attacked me, whenever I moved. I sleep soundly, and wake up feeling fresh and well. I am so much stronger than before I was sick, and never have those heavy, fainting spells, like I did. I don't look like the same person. I certainly urge every ailing woman to take CARDUI."

Upon reopening the latter part of next week it is probable that the trustees will hold an extensive clearance sale in an effort to remove much of the vast quantity of stock now on hand.

Fell Into Creek.

Miss Letitia Blakeman, aged 18, daughter of John Blakeman, of Stockdale, was slightly bruised and received a ducking while returning from the funeral of Hazel Wooddell on Owl Creek near Clifford, Friday afternoon. She was crossing a foot log over Owl Creek when her foot turned, causing her to pitch headlong into the water of the creek. She struck rocks in the bed of the creek, receiving slight bruises. Several friends came to her rescue.

"For the Woman who Knows"

For the woman who knows, nothing need be said as to the merits of Peruna. She knows already that Peruna is a great remedy for her many ailments.

But there are many women who do not know what a valuable remedy Peruna is. Characteristic complaints of any sort, whether of the head or the internal organs, yield to Peruna if taken regularly.

Mrs. L. A. Patterson, 258 Utah Ave., Memphis, Tenn., is one who knows. "I have been a friend of Peruna many years. We always recommend it to our neighbors."

Mrs. L. A. Martin, Yolo, Cal., also knows of Peruna. "I am sure Peruna saved my life. I had been very sick three months. Doctors were in despair. No one can describe my joy and happiness because of the change Peruna produced in me."

Women in all walks of life are making similar statements. They also find it a reliable and valuable household remedy. Every woman should have a copy of "The Ills of Life."

TO HONEST GOV'T, SAYS
SECRETARY W. J. BRYAN

Baltimore, Md., April 24.—"Publicity is as essential to honest administration of the government as freedom of speech is to representative government," Secretary of State Wm. J. Bryan told members of the City Club today.

"The government being the people's business," he said, "it necessarily follows that its operations should be at all times open to the public view."

Secretary Bryan spoke on "Rules for the New Voter," but he also discussed the duty of every citizen which, he said, was "to exert himself to the utmost to reform every abuse of government and to eradicate every evil in government, remembering that abuses and evils are more easily corrected in their beginning than when they have become fully established."

Can Operate Banking
Dep't More Cheaply

Columbus, April 24.—The state banking department for the next year can be operated for $61,000, more than $19,000 less than during the past year, and $17,000 less than the recommendation of the budget commission, Harry T. Hall, the new superintendent of the banking department, told the public finance committee today.

He declared he could reduce the number of employees from 38 to 25 and secure higher efficiency from the smaller number. Superintendent Hall's request was one of the few recommended for actually less than Budget Commissioner E. M. Fullington's recommendation.

W. VA. COUNTIES TO VOTE
ON GOOD ROAD ISSUE

Huntington, W. Va., April 24.—Bond issues for good roads aggregating $1,735,000 will be voted upon by counties in this vicinity within the next few weeks. The elections called for are as follows:

Cabell county, W. Va., $600,000, May 29; Kanawha county, W. Va., $375,000, May 29; Lincoln county, W. Va., $200,000, May 11; Boyd county, Ky., $500,000, May 1; Wayne county, W. Va., has already authorized bonds to build the Co.

POLAND SUFFERING
INTENSELY FROM WAR

Philadelphia, Pa., April 24.—Mrs. Robert Von Moschizker, the chairman of the Polish division of the emergency aid committee, has received a letter from Henry Sienkiewicz, the Polish author, who heads the European Polish aid commission, in which he urges that earnest effort be made to raise as much money as possible for the immediate relief of Poland. Sienkiewicz states that 7,000,000 soldiers have been fighting over the fields of Poland during the last eight months, that 15,000 villages have been destroyed and over 1,000,000 people are homeless and in dire distress, and that to date his commission has only been able to raise and distribute about $100,000 to relieve this terrible distress. Upon receipt of Sienkiewicz's letter $5,000 was sent to him as Pennsylvania's first money contribution for Polish relief.

TIMES CORN CONTEST.

The Times is deeply interested in seeing Scioto county farmers rise to the opportunities presented by the latest advances in scientific research in the management and cultivation of the soil, as well as the maintaining of the productivity of the soil. We have as good farmers here as anywhere in the state and we believe that they can demonstrate that fact if they only take sufficient interest.

The Korn Carnival Committee has made arrangements to offer a prize to the farmer who gets the largest yield per acre of corn, following the example set last year, and there are indications that there will be many contestants.

In order to add to the general interest in the contest, The Times will give $50 in gold to the farmer, be he young or old, who raises the most corn to the acre, at the least cost. The general conditions governing the contest are being worked out by a committee of Concord Grange, Wheelersburg, and these will be printed together with a form cost sheet, copies of which can be secured at The Times office either in person, or by writing for them, at the time of notifying The Times of intention to compete in the contest.

It is our aim to make this a contest without too many hampering conditions and we want to have hundreds of farmers make a try.

In addition to the above The Times will give $20 in gold to the boy or girl under 21 who raises the most corn to the acre, under the same conditions as those governing the main contest.

The contest will be open to any one in territory where The Times circulates. After it is over we want as many of the contestants as will to come in and either write an account of how they worked their land, or else tell us how they did so we can write it up, for the general benefit of farming in this community.

Full details will be printed in a few days. Look out for them.

THE LIQUOR BATTLE IN KENTUCKY.

In Kentucky this year the liquor question-bids fair to become the paramount question, both at the primaries in August and at the subsequent election. There had been an effort to suppress the issue but a few days ago, speaking from the same platform at Paducah, Senator-elect Beckham, a Democrat, and Judge O'Rear, a Republican, both advocated the nomination and election of men as members of the coming legislature who would submit a prohibition amendment to the constitution, so that the question could be settled by the voters of the state. They have no 1. & R. legislation in Kentucky, and the only way in which the people can get a chance to vote on state wide prohibition is through a constitutional amendment. Both leaders who advocated submission, according to the Lexington Herald, in their talks, were "free from deannunciation, conservative and conciliatory in tone, each simply presenting the reasons that has impelled him to follow the course he has adopted and the facts upon which he has based his conclusions."

The Herald goes on to say in its comments that the liquor question is not a moral question so much as it is an economic question. We are inclined to disagree with the Herald, believing that there is a moral as well as an economic side to the liquor battle, also that there is to a certain extent the question of personal rights of the individual involved so long as he does not conflict with the rights of his fellow citizens or the laws of the land. It is a broad question, much open to discussion and one upon which there will ever be wide differences of opinion. The only thing to do is to discuss it fairly and amicably. Vote your sentiments when the time comes and make up your mind to honestly abide by the result whether or not it coincides with your own views. But here are the views of the Lexington Herald, and they will be found of interest, worth the reading:

"We can not conceive any one really believes the question of local option, of prohibition, or of high license is in essence a moral question. For ourselves we certainly do not, nor do we believe the great majority of those who advocate these different forms of regulation or suppression of the liquor traffic so consider them. It is those who attempt to weaken the force of arguments against the manufacture and sale of liquor that try to bring the issue by injecting the moral question and raising the cry of personal liberty."

"It is an economic question that is to be decided. The argu-

Clean Up and Paint Up
 Do you find a bit of dust?
 Clean it up! Clean it up!
 Do you see a blight of rust?
 Rub it up! Rub it up!
 If the paint is getting old,
 New and fresh is being sold,
 For the town has now been told
 In a slogan clear and bold
 That she surely, surely must
 Clean it up—Paint it up!

Are some buildings on the blink?
 Clean 'em up—Paint 'em up!
 Are the spouting in a kink?
 Slick 'em up—Spic 'em up!
 Are the ashes in a heap?
 Do the pavings need a sweep?
 Is the lawn the kind to keep?
 With a rusty, easy wink,
 Clean 'em up—Paint 'em up!

Are the window glasses gray?
 Wash 'em up—Wash 'em up!
 Has the rubbish gone astray?
 Burn it up—Burn it up!
 Buy a little spade and rake,
 For the lawn and garden's sake,
 Never mind the pain and ache,
 And Gortown will in a day
 Be cleaned up to stay.

THE STUDENTS VOTING BILL.

We believe that the bill allowing persons absent from their normal places of residence or sick and infirm people to register and vote by mail, is a good one and should be passed by the legislature. We are not in favor of the bill that allows college students to vote in the town where they attend school. It too easily works out injustice upon the citizenship of the city or town in which a college is located. For instance suppose we had a college in Portsmouth and we had a big bond issue question up for consideration in which a majority of our local tax payers were strongly opposed to the issue as unnecessary and extravagant. Yet it would be possible for a shrewd organizer to arouse the emotions of thoughtless youths attending college, with no interests in the town and no taxes to pay, and to line them up solidly for the bond issue thereby carrying it. In a year or two the students would be gone to their homes but the community would have to bear the burden of the bond issue.

Do you think that would be fair and just? Bring it home to yourself. On the other hand if students are allowed to vote by mail, they will have ample opportunity to express their opinions on affairs in the communities where their real interests are centered. Give us the vote by mail but kill the vote wherever you may be bill.

"Did you notice," said the man who sat next to us on the street car this morning, "how the old gang handed it to that peerless friend of the capitalist and the workingman and everybody else, the Hon. Nate B. Gilliland, when it came to making arrangements for the coming of the Gay and the Senator? Even the fact that Nate is also running for the mayoralty nomination could not get him a look-in on the committees on arrangements. I do hope something will be done when you put it in the paper and Nate's name also written there."

About the best study in patience we know of these days is to sit around and watch the war news to see whether or not Italy is going to fight somebody. For our part we are getting tired of it. We wish the Italians would "put up or shut up."

Times readers who have been enjoying the "Animal Jingles", written by Mrs. Alice Crow Gail, will regret to learn that the brilliant authoress is in a hospital owing to serious illness and that the feature will have to be suspended until she is able to resume work again.

HOW THE ANIMALS MADE GARDEN
 Said Clementine Chipmunk, "I've made up my mind
 What to grow in my garden," said she;
 "I'm going to plant some delicious acorns
 And raise a nice shady oak tree."

Her playmates all said, "Why, you foolish young thing,
 It will take such a long time, you'll be
 A toothless old lady with gray hair before
 An acorn grows into a tree."

Said Clementine Chipmunk, "The very idea!
 You're all quite mistaken, I know;
 I'll tend them so carefully, you'll be surprised
 At how quickly they're sure to grow."

So Clementine planted her acorns and then
 She patiently lingered around,
 Expecting each moment to see her oak tree
 Come bursting forth out of the ground.

But after a little her patience gave out;
 Said she, "This is awfully slow;
 Perhaps I had better dig down and find out
 The reason those acorns don't grow."

She dug down and found them and said, "Well perhaps
 They will not grow into a tree;
 I don't want them wasted, and so I believe
 That I will just eat them," said she.

And that is exactly what Clementine did;
 She ate them right there on the spot;
 And that is the reason, when summer was done,
 There was nothing in her garden plot.

"It takes time," said Mother McGrow with a smile,
 "To do anything that is really worth while;
 And it might be a good thing if you'd plant the seed
 Of patience, I think it's a thing that you need."

 Picking her way daintily through the grime of the locomotive works, a young woman visitor viewed the huge operations with visible awe.
 Finally she turned to a young man from the office who was showing her through, and, pointing, asked,
 "What is that big thing over there?"
 "That's a locomotive boiler," the young man replied.
 She puckered her brows: "And what do they boil locomotives for?"
 "To make the locomotive tender."
 And the young man from the office never batted an eye-lash.

 "No, Mistah Bones, ah can't."

The mayor of Guilford quit his job to get a license to run a saloon and the mayor of Waverly is an applicant for a license to run a saloon in that town. It's different down here. Every native born son seems to have the idea that he wants to be mayor and we never heard of any of them giving up the job until they had to.

Still, come to think about it, we ought to get a bid to that feed for Frank and Warren. We went through Ada once in our automobile. But then that was before Frank put Ada on the map and it was just a little straggly town to us that stood between us and Columbus our destination, so maybe we can't qualify.

The "Do It Now" campaign is spreading to the county. In our Garden letter to the Weekly Times we noticed that the idea caught on there with a vengeance and that a quarter of the houses in the village were being repainted and fixed up generally.

Talking about election frauds and yet this assembly proposes to repeal the law which forbids students from voting anywhere except where they should vote—at home.

With our mental vision we can't escape that flood wall going along and up anyway soon.

We are going to have a clean-up day a whole week long. There are ideas and ideas as to how it ought to be put in, but there is just one worth while and that is to clean up.

We don't hear so much talk about this being a free country, and that's bad for the country.

It never rains but it pours, so you often hear, and see too for that matter.

MACCABEES MEMORIAL

Memorial Day will be observed by the Tent No. 494, Knights of the Maccabees, on Sunday, June 13. A committee, consisting of George Floyd, George C. Nickel, and Albert Hollberg, was appointed to have charge of the arrangements, at the meeting held Friday evening.

It was also decided to meet with the Ladies of the Maccabees on Tuesday evening, May 4, the occasion of the second anniversary of the founding of the local organization. An enjoyable program will be rendered at that time.

A Diamond Engagement

Ring

There is one thing distinctive about Carr diamonds—leaving aside all thought of size, price, etc.—and that is their quality consistency. Whether you buy the modest $25 ring, or go higher—$50, $100, $200, $500, or more—the same quality prevails. Except as to size no one Carr diamond is better or worse than another—all are the finest procurable. This is the reason for the universal acceptance of the Carr engagement ring, whatever its size, as of unapproachable quality. This is why you will buy a Carr ring, or wish afterwards that you had.

The Markets

WEEKLY SUMMARY OF THE MARKETS

New York, April 24.—Indications of a reaction from the recent activity in the stock market obtained themselves at irregular intervals during the week. Heavy profit taking and some diminution of public interest left their impression upon quoted values, standard shares declining two to almost five points from their recent best.

The numerous industrial and equipment which made such striking gains earlier in the month were relatively quiet, their place being taken by U. S. Steel and the coppers. The latter group made general advances, their rise being accompanied by a succession of advances in the selling price of the metal to highest prices in several years. Steel failed to hold any considerable part of its rise, the stock being sold in large amounts as a result of Chairman Gary's cautious trade statements. Foreigners were among the heaviest sellers of the week, London and the continent unloading large amounts of investment issues, as well as low grade railers. The Rock Island receivership was one of the chief factors in arresting the upward movement. General trade reports and railroad earnings were of an encouraging tenor, likewise bank clearings. Monetary conditions show continued ease interior banks are increasing their purchases of commercial paper.

NEW YORK STOCK

New York, April 24.—War specialties, coppers and oils contributed more than their recent quota toward today's short but active stock market session. With the exceptions of Union Pacific, Reading and U. S. Steel, the speculative favorites were not particularly prominent.

The group of railroads commonly referred to as in the reorganization class showed further heaviness, and tobacco, motors and some obscure industrials lost 1 to 4 points. Mexican petroleum gained over five points, selling at a new high record in connection with the beneficial arrangements made by the company with the British interests. Best prices were made in the final dealings under leadership of steel which gained two points on heavy buying accompanied by rumors of a decision of the suit brought by the government against the company. The closing was strong. Bonds were irregular.

Aside from a "wide" opening in Interborough Metropolitan shares resulting from yesterday's late announcement of recapitalization, the early market presented no unusual features.

Interborough common opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 22 to 21½, against yesterday's closing price of 20½. The proffered stock ranged from 72½ to 71½, a maximum decline of 9½. The common soon yielded all its gain. Leading stocks showed a mixture of gains and losses and specialties also reflected variable tendencies. Low priced railways suffered further declines.

wheat seemed to make no impression. After opening ¼ off to ½ up, the market scored material gains all around.

Corn bulged with wheat and as a result of incessant damaging rains in Argentina. Selling was only scattered. The opening which varied from ¼ to ½ higher, was followed by additional upturns.

Active buying of September oats tended to lift other months. The bulls were chiefly pit speculators.

Trade in provisions was light. Quotations showed no decided change.

Confirmation of good sales today of new crop winter wheat for export had a further strengthening influence on that cereal. The close was strong, 1½ to 2½ cents above last night.

No important reaction took place in corn. The close was firm at ¾ to ¾ cents net advance.

to manage a head of lettuce without the use of the knife.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me what a half-dollar made in 1839 is worth?

THANK YOU.
50 cents. There is no premium on a fifty-cent piece coined in that year.

Dear Dolly—I was going with a man in another city, and also with a man here. The one here objected to the other man, so I quit him. Now I hear that he feels awfully downhearted because I threw him overboard. What would you do under the circumstances? KITTY.

I would drop him a line.

Dear Dolly—About a year ago I started to go with a young man in another city. His letters have been quite frequent and loving of late and I am very much afraid he will pop the question ere long. Now he seems to be a very nice man, but I do not believe I care to accept a man I have never seen. What is your advice along this line?

A YOUNG LADY.
It is impossible to know people simply through correspondence. Before considering a man seriously a girl should know his faults, as well as his little everyday mannerisms. Sometimes the little habits, the way he eats, or the lack of courtesy, the thousands of things that go to make up personality may "get on one's nerves" worse than real faults. It is these things a girl finds out about a man when she sees him often, which she could never find out through letters. Did you ever stop to think how really little we do learn of people through correspondence. True, we learn what kind of English and grammar they use, and some of their exhibition thoughts, but we don't learn what kind of temper they have, nor how they smile. If I were you, I should insist on knowing the man better before allowing him to become a "serious." He might be married for all you know, or he might be selfish and stingy. Then, too, maybe he is an old crook. Better pass him up, or else get busy and find out all about him.

Dear Dolly—I was going with a young lady and we went together about a year and I gave her an expensive Christmas present, and now she says she likes some one else better and we have quit going together. Would it be proper for me to ask her to send it back? She did not give me anything.

BILL.
No, it would not be proper to ask for the gift. It would be proper for her to return it, but not for you to ask for it. Besides, even if you are not going together, you should be glad to let her have it for the sake of the good times you had. It is not customary for young ladies to give Christmas gifts to men unless they are engaged.

Mary—Don't try to "keep" your conversation, let it loose. Also do not carry on a "house" conversation. You might say "thank you," but it isn't necessary to say anything, unless you want to. You are too young to work. It would be perfectly all right to take care of children after school hours and on Saturdays. Only special friends are invited to parties, so please don't ask boys you have never met, unless they come as the guests of your friends. About the ewing, just tell him goodbye when he leaves and let it go at that. It isn't necessary for a girl to go into hysterics every time a boy speaks to her. Get that idea out of your head once and for all time. I do not know of anything that will take the "off." They are supposed to be there, so let 'em alone.

TIMES SERVICE PATTERN 1237

1237. A chic and desirable model.

Ladies' Shirt Waist with sleeve in either of two lengths.

This model shows a simple attractive style, that will at once appeal to every woman of conservative taste, who likes a trim smart waist. The model is finished with coat closing and the new high collar. The fronts may be open at the throat, the collar being rolled back with the fronts to form revers. The sleeve in wrist length is a popular regulation shirt sleeve, with straight cuff. If its short length, a neat turn-back cuff forms a smart finish. Linen, ratine, madras, crepe, batiste, albatross, satin, tulle and poplin are all suitable for this style. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a 36-inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Orders for patterns are forwarded to New York to be filled, hence it requires several days for the pattern to reach the purchaser. Patterns can not be ordered by telephone. Do not use postage stamps for larger denomination than two cents.

CAUTION—Order adult pattern by number of pattern, giving bust measure for waist patterns, and waist measure for skirt patterns. For Misses and Children give number of pattern and age only.

Working On Trolley Viaduct

The first concrete for the Ohio Valley Traction company's extension from Sciotoville to Ironton was poured Friday afternoon near Sciotoville by Sub-Contractors Cady and Armstrong. A bridge is being built over the Little Scioto near Sciotoville and a viaduct is being built across Chandler's Run at Franklin Furnace and the concrete work on these jobs will be looked after by Cady and Armstrong. Contractor Arthur Simpson, who is doing the grading, has three gangs of men at work and splendid headway is being made," said Raymond York last night. "The right-of-way matters are coming along satisfactorily, and from present indications the extension will be completed and ready for service before the stipulated time, December 1," said Mr. York.

CLEAN UP WEEK IS PUT OFF; PLAN BIG THINGS

Realizing that they could accomplish more by having a little more time to fully map out their plans for Clean-Up Week Mrs. Sellards, president of the Federation of Woman's Clubs announced Saturday that Clean-Up Week in Portsmouth will not be observed until the first week in May.

Governor Willis has set aside next week as Clean-Up Week in the state, but those in charge of this big task in Portsmouth feel that by carrying on a vigorous campaign of education next week better results can be obtained by observing the week a week later. "We will call a meeting in a few days to canvas the situation thoroughly and to outline our plans," said Miss Lenore Alford Saturday. "We will ask every housewife in Portsmouth to see that her home gets a good cleaning during this week. We will also probably take pictures of the places that especially need cleaning and in this way point out to this and that family the absolute need of cleaning up," she said.

"We will ask people to clean their attics, their lawns, homes in particular, sheds, basements, in fact everything about their premises that would make for a cleaner and more sanitary home. It is to be made a memorable week from a sanitary standpoint."

MISS KENT MAY COME TO SUN

The possibility of witnessing first-class plays by a well balanced stock company at the Sun theatre loomed strongly on the theatrical horizon Saturday when Miss Louise Kent sent a letter to Manager Fitzhugh Lee asking for an all summer engagement at this theatre. Miss Kent at present is the leading woman of the Poli Stock company of Washington. She is a great favorite here, having played several successful engagements in the Millbrook Casino. Mr. Lee stated that the negotiations to bring Miss Kent and her own company to the Sun would be closed in a few days and he plans to have his house automatically cooled during the heated term.

R. A. DELEGATE HOME

T. A. Russell has returned from Akron, where he attended the Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum as a delegate from McPherson Council of this city. Mr. Russell stated that while polling of unusual importance came up during the Grand Council meeting, nevertheless, it was an interesting session, and that the people of Akron entertained the delegates royally.

The Grand Council was honored with the presence of John Haskell Butler, of Boston, who has been associated with the order ever since its founding, having been its legal advisor for over thirty-eight years. Toledo was chosen as the meeting place for next year.

WIDOW RECEIVES PAY FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Columbus, April 23.—(Special) The State Industrial Commission today granted an award of $3,232.32 to Mrs. Charles H. Hunter, 2235 Gullin street, Portsmouth, on account of the death of her husband, Charles H. Hunter, who on February 17 was fatally injured while in the employ of the Portsmouth Steel company at Portsmouth. Medical and funeral expenses of $410 were also paid from the state insurance fund.

At the time he was injured Hunter was standing on a crane track pulling up pieces of sheeting through an opening. The operator of the crane, not knowing that Hunter was on the track started between the crane and Hunter was caught between the machine and an iron column. Both his legs were broken and he was so badly injured that he died ten days later.

Besides the widow are five minor children who will benefit by the award of the state which was granted under the provisions of the workmen's compensation act. The award will be paid to them in bi-weekly installments of $20.72 for six years.

HAD STRUGGLE WITH POLICEMEN

Luther Dabney, a young man who has been subject to epileptic fits for some years past, became suddenly violent at his home, 912 Waller street Friday evening. Dabney had started a disrobing act on the sidewalk and when hustled into the house began a harrangue that terrorized the whole neighborhood. Capt. Grant Cooper and a squad of police officers responded to a "hurry" call. Dabney tore Officer Arthur Riding's clothes into shreds and in forcing Officer Tom Albrecht against a door tore a hole in his head from which blood spurted. Dabney was finally overpowered and removed to a padded cell at the county jail.

Dabney was adjudged insane at an inquest in Probate Judge Beatty's court Saturday morning and was taken to the Athens hospital Saturday afternoon by Sheriff Smith.

THEN VAL WOKE UP

Val Lee is some pumpkins of a fisherman. While tracing trot lines in the Scioto river Friday night he caught a nice big cat fish and a small pig—then he woke up.

ACCUSED OF FLIRTING

William Epzner, farmer, who is charged with paying attentions to Charles Scott's wife, and who successfully eluded the police for a week was captured in the West End Saturday morning. Scott caught sight of the man and summoned Officer Roy Moore. Epzner was locked up and his case set for hearing Monday morning.

MAD DOG

A dog that was supposed to have been used was killed at Front and Thompson streets Saturday morning. It did not bite any children, so far as could be learned, but it is said bit several other dogs.

Reports reached police headquarters Saturday that a mad dog had been seen on Dexter avenue had bitten a child but they proved unfounded. Officer Branham was detailed to investigate reports that at Front and Glover streets had a dog on Dexter avenue had bitten a child but they proved unfounded.

"THE THREE WAYS" AT TEMPLE THEATRE

Mr. Spring, who for a number of only just a handful of mankind, a Sunday past has been filling out of town lecture appointments, will be here and will work in the narrow way (this gospel, also, yet that in the future, during the world's great judgment day, that a new way will be opened up for those who never heard the gospel in this life, and that all will have an opportunity to gain everlasting life.

Prof. Gentry Gives A Splendid Talk

Following are extracts from a splendid talk Prof. E. M. Gentry made at the meeting of the Afro-American League, whom he addressed Thursday night, on the subject of "The Hour and the Needs." "Confidence is the greatest asset of either an individual or a people. Confidence in one's self is secured either by experience or by a knowledge of their innate power. The American negro has not had sufficient experience to give him such confidence. Hence he must rely upon a knowledge of his possibilities to create the needed confidence."

"The total negro population of the United States is equivalent to that of eighteen of the less populous states of the Union. Nearly five times as great as were the American colonists when they threw off the British yoke in 1775."

"According to the last census report, the value of farm property owned by Negroes had increased 177 per cent in ten years. One Negro in every ten is a farm operator. One Negro in every forty-five owns his own farm."

"In 1862 there were only twelve kinds of business in which Negroes were engaged. Today he is engaged in 73 kinds of business; among which may be mentioned fifty-seven banks and twenty-five insurance companies. There are some three hundred Negro business men's leagues, lending encouragement and enthusiasm."

"The Negro's religious tendency is evidenced by the fact that he has forty thousand churches with property valued at seventy million dollars and over four million communicants."

"In the former slave states there are nearly two million pupils of school age requiring the services of over thirty thousand teachers. Over five hundred and forty other institutions devoted to secondary and higher education. This educational army reduced illiteracy in the race 14 per cent from 1900 to 1910."

"All is not sunshine in the struggle of the race upward. Many dis-

WANT STREET OPENED

Attorney William J. Meyer has addressed a letter to the city board of control on behalf of Harvard Place property owners urging favorable action on the proposed opening of that thoroughfare through to Ninth street. The board will go over the ground Monday.

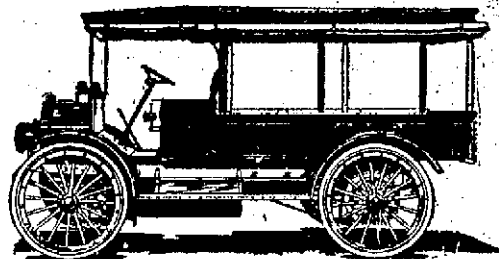

So earnest are the property owners in their desire to have the street opened that at one time they went so far as to offer to pay a large part of the costs of the opening but the then city officials indicated that it was not the place of the property owners to contribute for purposes of general public improvement.

The present board officials feel that it is regrettable that when the city proposed to purchase the property necessary to open the street and pave it to Ninth street a $2 per front abutting foot that they did not agree to this proposal for the reason that it will now cost more to pave the street alone than the property could have been purchased for and the improvement made at the time it was up for consideration. The board takes the stand that when the property owners bought on this street it was with the knowledge that it was a sort of an isolated section and therefore paid accordingly they no doubt expecting to incur an expense at some future time for improving the same. In view of these conditions the board feels it not unreasonable to anticipate that the abutting owners will be willing to assist to the end that the improvement may be undertaken.

INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS

Give Year-Round Service

Model E, the latest addition to the International Motor Truck line, capacity 1,500 pounds

Perhaps the principal reason why business men are not taking up with the motor truck universally is because they are still afraid that breakdowns or weather conditions may interfere with regular business. There is no reason whatever for any such idea. International Motor Trucks give year-round service, as their record of more than eight years proves conclusively. Some of our patrons have trucks that have worked every day for three years without losing an hour of any working day.

If your belief that the motor truck is not yet reliable has kept you from showing an active interest in it, drop in at the address below and let us show you some of the records that International Motor Trucks have made. We can easily convince you that the International at least is as reliable as any transportation equipment you ever used. Or, drop us a line and we will send you some exceedingly interesting facts and figures.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that most forms uric acid which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull aching in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels get sore and irritated, bladder soon feels sore and relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer irritating, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

"HOMES OF CHARACTER"

No. 177—BY JOHN HENRY NEWSON

By special arrangement with The Times Mr. Newson will answer any inquiries concerning these homes which Times readers may care to make. In writing, give the number of the design and address your inquiry to the "Homes of Character Department," The Times.

A QUANT OLD-FASHIONED HOUSE—NO. 177, SIZE 37x36 FEET

A good example of a simple, colonial design carried out in a quaint and pleasing manner. The idea of simplicity and quaintness has been maintained in the extra wide shutters used upon the exterior and the division in the window sash, all as by the exceedingly large and simple outside chimney. The roof is in gable shingles. The floor plan is carried out in the center hall type, but a library has been located at the rear of the hall under the main stair landing and the second floor is reached by combination stairs from the entry. The grade leading to the cellar is arranged off the kitchen at the rear. A porch is provided at the rear of the living room, and its entrance again shows only on the front. The second floor has three bedrooms with built-in wardrobes and a sleeping porch off of the rear bedroom. Basement under entire house. The house is finished throughout with oak floors, hardwood finish in the main rooms and built-in white wood finish for enclosing in all of the bedrooms and bath. The kitchen and pantry are finished in Georgia pine. The attic is plastered and finished in place. With hot water heat, best grade plumbing and excellent material and workmanship throughout, this design can be built for from $2000 to $2500.

BILLY SOUTHWORTH'S BAT BIG NOISE IN A. A.

Local Outfielder Now Hitting .500, Other Averages

Chicago, April 24.—Bob Fisher, of Chicago, with 11 hits in the first seven games of the season, leads the hitters of the National league with a percentage of .500, according to averages compiled here today.

The next nine hitters are Zimmerman, Brooklyn, .450; Groh, Cincinnati, .450; Gravano, Philadelphia, .429; Doyle, New York, .417; Smith, Boston, .380; Luderus, Philadelphia, .375; Clarke, Cincinnati, .375; Connolly, Boston, .375; Suler, Chicago, .310; Snodgrass, New York, with five leads in stolen bases.

Another Chicagoan, Jacques Bourlier, is getting the pace in the American league. He has been up ten times and made five hits, for an average of .500. Next come Cobb, Detroit, .480; Crawford, Detroit, .467; Veach, Detroit, .461; Strunk, Philadelphia, .423; G. Walker, St. Louis, .401; Jackson, Cleveland, .387; Oldring, Philadelphia, .371; T. Walker, St. Louis, .357; Jaurio, Boston, .357; G. Maise, New York and John Collins, Columbus, .300 each.

RIGHT IDEA AT LEXINGTON

(Lexington Herald.)

"There is going to be a lot of grand-nephews in Lexington this year," said Chairman Frank B. Jones, of the Members' Council of the Board of Commerce, speaking yesterday at the regular weekly luncheon given over to the fans and the Lexington Exhibition Company operators of the Lexington Colls, which this year starts the season in the Ohio State League at Frankfurt May 11. One of the largest attendance at the luncheon was present at the session.

Few Uncensored Sportlets

Every time we figure that a ball club has a chance for the pennant Hugh Fullerton butts in and makes one of his predictions. He says the Phillies will finish between the second and eighth positions. Zowie!

Happy thought for the day! Billy Southworth is leading the American Association in hitting. That is why Billy Doyle is so happy these days.

John Weinberg had a chance to join the Owensboro, Ky., team Friday, but turned Manager Weitzel's offer down.

Friday's mail brought ten requests to Manager Ches. Spencer for jobs.

McGraw says the Giants are in poor condition. And after spending six weeks in Texas, "Dig up a new club, jawn, this one is breadbare."

Mike O'Day sends word to local fans that 3,500 fans witnessed the opening game in Wheeling and that he is well pleased with his surroundings there.

Outfielder Devore, a brother of Manager Josh Devore of the Babes reported to the local team Friday for a try out.

Manager Hank has already told the Pittsburgh fans that his team will finish in the first division this year. God will not have to worry any longer as to where the Reds are going to finish, this season.

The Clippers are requested to report at St. Francis park Sunday afternoon for the game with the Temple Clippers.

Hank Gowdy is running true to form. He is hitting .322, making 7 hits on his first 22 trips to the plate.

For an old man Tommy Leach is doing pretty well for the Reds, thank you. He scored both runs Friday and practically beat the Pirates single handed.

Frank De Lotelle will pitch for Doyle's rookies at Chillicothe Sunday. Doyle has ten more players to report to the next few days.

Malwitz of the Reds is hitting .250, Moroz 330, Groh .450, Clarke .375, Kilmer, .333 and Leach .250.

Scout Billy Doyle says that Red Kilmer of the Reds is not as good a man as Billy Southworth. Billy passed up Kilmer last year after giving him the once over.

A statistician has already figured out that in the six teams in the Ohio State league fully 200 ball players are trying for positions. There are 30 players here, Ironton has 25, Chillicothe 20, Lexington 35, Charleston 30 and Manager Babson of Frankfurt expects to look over a herd of from 40 to 50 players.

Up to date Eddie Collins has not set the world off in Chicago, but he certainly is missed about Philadelphia. The way the Athletics have been playing recently one would think they were members of the Epworth league instead of the American league.

Clubby Chawles Murphy is beating the Pirates. Wonder what Fred Clarke ever did to the Windy City megaphone.

Christy Mathewson is complaining of

To Protect Spectators

Cleveland, April 24.—Rep. Johnson has ordered the American league, comprised to prohibit players from indulging in hunting practice close to the grand stand prior to games. For years the big league teams have practiced hunting while their opponents were working in the field, and often a ball was fouled into the stands. Johnson argues that the players should be able to get sufficient hunting practice mornings and earlier in the afternoons.

Notes From Charleston

(Charleston Gazette.)

"Buddy" Reetz last night carried all his players and gave them a regular little heart-to-heart talk on personal conduct, and how they should deport themselves to get the good will of the people as, after all, the day of wonders in the baseball profession is past. Reetz urged upon his players the necessity of keeping good hours and going to bed early, eating only simple food and in other ways keeping condition as is demanded of runners, track teams, members of crews and tennis players.

Although Stutz was expected to put in his appearance last night, he failed and now the manager doesn't expect to see him until about Sunday. Stutz has been carrying on in his home town and it is probable that he will be the most invincible pitcher in the O. S. L. this season.

Calvin Thomas, the West State lad is showing some class at the first sack and the man from Montgomery will have to go some to beat him for a regular place. Thomas is a .340 hitter.

OSBORNE REPORTS

(Irontonian.)

Best Osborne, brother of that famed Arch Osborne, former manager for the Ironton State League team, had been in from Charleston, Pa., "dropped in" as the English say when they sight a German Zeppelin raider, last night and will receive his first workout this morning. Osborne is of about the same physical build as his brother and must be expected of him in the pitching way this year.

Rev. Garnerly In Charge

Rev. Garnerly of the St. Mary's parish in Columbus, will have charge of the St. Joseph parish at Ironton until the vacancy, left by the death of Rev. Father Schneider, can be filled.

Snook Thief.

While he was down street Friday evening, a robber entered the rooms of Charles Hodel, well known Ironton butcher, on South Sixth street, just above Park avenue, and robbed him of $600 in cash.

To Carpet New Hotel

A. S. Turner has awarded a contract to The Anderson Bros. company to carpet his new hotel on Third street, throughout.

Named Administrator

McKinstre Deemer, a son, was appointed in probate court Saturday as administrator of the estate of his mother, the late Maria Deemer, of Rush township. The estate is valued at $500, all personal property, and bond in that amount was furnished. Four children, one brother and one sister, comprise the living heirs.

School Board Puts Ban On Flag Rushes

There will not be any flag rushes staged by the student body of the Portsmouth High School this year as the school board at its meeting Friday night instructed Supt. Frank Appel to prevent any affairs of this kind taking place.

The matter of the pinkeboards in the new Lincoln school building, which have not come up to expectations, according to the board, was referred to Supt. Frank Appel and Architect Albert Prezinger.

The board went on record in favoring the Jackson bill, which, if it becomes a law, will permit all school boards to issue bonds to take over drafts on all funds. The schedule amounting to $8,091.32 was allowed. C. E. Nourse was the only absentee.

RARDEN SCHOOLS CLOSE

Enjoyable exercises marked the closing of the school year at Rarden Friday afternoon, the program being participated in by members of all the grades in the building. Recitations, musical numbers, and addresses made up the program. Among those who made addresses were Principal R. K. Day, A. B. McBride, James

BROTHERHOOD CLASS

There ought to be a good turn out of the members of the Brotherhood tomorrow morning. We have one of the best topics for discussion we have had for some time. If you do not belong to any class for men and are not attending the Brotherhood Class at All Saints' church you are missing a good thing. Take our word for it. Every meeting is an enthusiastic one and the class is brimful of the spirit of brotherhood. Just come round and prove it. Yes, it is quite true that Rector Powell is the leader of the class but he does not do all the talking. You help.

To a great extent the Brotherhood class teaches itself. The meeting is at 9:30 a. m. every Sunday morning in the Rector's office on Fourth street, next the Chapel.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE

"BUY AT HOME" DOLLAR IS HARD AT WORK

All ends of the city and all lines of business are being visited by the "Buy at Home" dollar, which is enjoying a wide circulation since the start of its journey last Thursday afternoon. After going all over the East End Friday afternoon and evening, it found its way into the North End Saturday morning and was being exchanged often at last reports.

John W. Flood, of Flood & Blake's Pharmacy, in whose keeping the dollar was at last reports Friday, used it Friday afternoon in buying his daily meat order at the Governor's Market across the street. Mr. Coverston spent it for groceries at Freshour Brothers next door, and one of the firm used it soon afterward in making a purchase at the L. F. Lemon and Company's store.

The dollar, again found its way into the hands of John W. Flood late Friday evening, and he used it early Saturday morning to pay a shoe repair bill at the shoe repair shop of George Coryell, of Eleventh street. Mr. Coryell gave it to Harold Rhodes, of the Rhodes Sons' grocery, of Ninth street, who delivered his bill of groceries at the shop.

The Rhodes grocery firm spent it with Alva Wilson, a Wheelersburg produce man, who drove to the city with a load of produce Saturday. Mr. Wilson paid it on his account at the store of Neudecker & Silcox, wholesale grocers, of Sixth street, who in turn used it to pay a laundry bill from the American Steam Laundry, Richard Applegate, driver of the laundry wagon.

Mr. Applegate made a purchase at the grocery store of John Joseph, on Lincoln street, offering the bill in payment and receiving his change. Joseph spent it with Newton Bender, driver for the Great Western Tea Company, and he in turn spent it at the saloon of Walter Correll on Findlay street, and the last account to reach the Times was that Mr. Doerr had used it to pay his bill with J. M. Bender, a Chillicothe street baker.

MEET NEXT SATURDAY

The meeting of the Democratic county executive committee, originally called for today, to select a man to fill the vacancy in the board of deputy supervisors of elections caused by the death of the late Dr. J. B. Ray, has been postponed until next Saturday afternoon, at one o'clock. Chairman Small was in doubt as to whether the notices would reach the rural committeemen in time to enable them to be present today. The meeting next Saturday will be held in his office. There are many applicants for the endorsement of the committee.

90 Today

Saturday proved to be one of the hottest April days on record, according to Weather Observer Dr. Harry Schirmann, the maximum temperature being 90 and the minimum 65.

Straw hats were worn in profusion Saturday, many of the stores reporting a big demand for comfortable lids of this character.

ALL THAT WAS LEFT OF NEUVE CHAPELLE AFTER BOMBARDMENT

Scenes in Neuve Chapelle just after successful bombardment by British. These pictures of wreck and ruin at Neuve Chapelle show the result of the most violent bombardment in history, for the concentrated fire of 350 British guns on March 10, when hell was let loose for thirty-five minutes, was but the final act in a bombardment which raged during October and continued spasmodically during the four intervening months.

SOCIETY

Lesson IV.—Second Quarter, For April 25, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, 1 Sam. xvii, 38-51. Memory Verses, 45—Golden Text, Rom. viii, 31—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The armies of the living God defied and the people of God reproached describes the state of affairs at the opening of this lesson (verses 10, 28, 39). I have just read in the papers of a deficit in each of two mission boards of over $200,000 and of one denomination that has lost 900,000 members in six years. Does there seem to be any parallel, and if so where is the David for the occasion? We have reason to thank God for a man like Rev. William Sunday, who is rescuing more souls from the hands of the enemy and slaying more giants than any other man in America today (May, 1914), as far as we are able to judge, because he has learned how to slay stones with deadly aim in the name of the living God. We cannot but thank God also for such a witness as Daniel Crawford, from the heart of Africa, who has been standing for the living God before the preachers and students and hundreds of thousands of the people of our land. Oh, for more such Davids and Daniel! Who is willing to be another such? How pitiful to see the men of Israel more afraid and feeling from one defeat (Philistines' Verse 24) The words of Joshua are applicable, "O Lord, what shall I say when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies?" (Josh. vii, 8.)

David, the shepherd boy, of no account in the eyes of his brethren, found this condition of things when he came to the camp, sent by his father to see how his brethren fared and to bring them some good things from home (verses 15-18), he having returned from being Saul's armor bearer to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem. Blah, his oldest brother, misjudged him and spoke unkindly to him, saying he mockingly replied, "Is there not a cause?" (Verses 23, 29). David is allowed to defy God and reproach Israel was told to Saul and he sent for David, and he said to Saul: "Let no man's heart fail because of him. Thy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. The Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out of the paw of the bear, He will deliver me out of his hand" (Verses 32-37).

Saul armed David with his armor—his helmet, his coat of mail and his sword (what a snapshot that would have made!)—but he could not go thus, for he had not proved it. So he put it all off him, and with his sling and five smooth stones, which he knew how to use, and with his staff in his hand he went forth to meet the giant, the great mass of blaspheming flesh and blood (verses 38-40). The giant distained him and cursed him, which is about the spirit that flesh always acts toward the weak, or meek, as Ishmael did Isaac (verses 41-44; Gen. xxi, 10; Gal. v, 17). How grand are the words of David, "I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied" (verse 45). The invincible God was much more real to David than this visible giant, who made Israel to tremble. He reminds us of our Caleb and Joshua, to whom giants and walled cities were nothing because they saw and believed God. Moses also endured no seeing him who is invincible. Most people, however, see the difficulty and see themselves as grasshoppers (Num. xiii, 33).

Then notes David's one desire, that all Israel and all the earth might know the God whom he knew, the living God, the God who could deliver from an actual lion and bear. He had no thought of himself nor desire for any glory for himself, but he honored the Lord, and the Lord did honor him, according to 1 Sam. xii, 30. It is great to see no man any more save Jesus only and to say from the heart: "The Lord is my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear?" (Ps. lxxviii, 1.) Nothing can be compared to such a confidence in God as David had. Now see him running toward the giant, placing a stone in his sling, and with a prayer to his God sending it in the name of the Lord of hosts and for the honor of His name. Do you wonder that it went straight and struck dead, smote into the giant's forehead and fell him to the earth? "The eyes of all the thousands of Israel and of all the Philistines were upon David and he ran to meet his enemy, but he gave that no thought, for his eyes were upon the living God, and God's eyes were upon him, according to II Chron. xvi, 9.

David had no weapon, so he ran and stood upon the giant (can't you see him?) and, taking the giant's sword, cut off his head and carried it away in triumph, first to Saul and then to Jerusalem. He took the giant's armor also (verses 48-51). This was all written for your benefit and mine that we might learn to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. I do not understand how neither Saul nor the captain of his host knew who David was, although David had been Saul's armor bearer, but I rejoice to meet Jonathan again and to see him loving David as his own soul and stripping himself of garments and armor to put them upon David (chapter xvii, 1-6). Then I think of him who loved me and gave himself for me.

COOPERATION IS KEYNOTE DECLARES MR. BRIGGS

The tri-state jobbers, manufacturers, and credit men of Charleston, Williamson, Kenova, Callettsburg, Ashland, Huntington, and Portsmouth held a splendidly attended and a most enthusiastic meeting in Huntington Friday and it was concluded with a banquet served in the Frederick hotel last night.

The Huntington Herald-Dispatch says:

"Among the principal speakers were J. H. Trego of New York, secretary-treasurer of the National Association, and Samuel M. Mayer, of Cincinnati, national director. C. C. Garrett of this city made a number of recommendations as to improvement of the credit laws of the state. Other speakers on the program were L. C. Stephenson of Charleston; W. M. Briggs of Portsmouth; C. Buck, of Charleston; R. B. Parrish, of Williamson; J. O. Mathewson of Ashland; Leroy Swinburn, of Charleston; C. P. Snow, President Norvell of the local association; R. O. Walton and J. L. Hawkins. Major W. H. Banks acted as toastmaster.

"The establishment of a permanent prosecution fund, not only by the national, but the local associations of the credit men for the purpose of seeking to put out of business industrial and commercial frauds, was advocated by Mr. Trego.

"Mr. Briggs, of Portsmouth, who is well known in local jobbing circles, declared that only in co-operation can efficient work against the poor debtor be secured. He said the Portsmouth members of the association are keenly interested in the movement."

Coal Shipments Of C. & O. And N. & W.

The statement of the shipments of coal and coke over the lines of the Norfolk & Western railroad during the month of March and for the first three months of the year, has just been issued by T. D. Hobart, general coal freight agent of the company, and shows that the decrease of 439,856 tons, a decrease as compared with the shipments during the same periods last year. During the month of March 1,975,876 tons were shipped, as compared with 2,215,188 tons shipped in the same month in 1914, showing a decrease of 239,312 tons. For the first three months of the present year a total of 5,622,635 tons were shipped, as against 6,062,091 tons during the corresponding period in 1914, a decrease of 439,456 tons.

The shipments of coal and coke over the lines of the C. & O. railroad during the month of February and for the first two months of the year, has just been made public in the statement issued by O. D. Jones, auditor of freight traffic. The statement shows that 3,404,177 tons were shipped during February, as compared with 1,187,833 tons during the same month last year, an increase of 2,216,344 tons. During the first two months of the year a total of 3,106,224 tons were shipped, as against 2,867,284 tons during the corresponding period in 1914, an increase of 238,940 tons.

Great Day Promised At First Christian

With the coming of the new reports during the week. The boys have been out on several motor-cycle parades and have probably made 200 interviews. The Lord Daughters hope to again defeat the men, repeating their achievement of last Sunday when the score was 129 to 121.

Special music will feature every service tomorrow, and they certainly can sing at the First Christian. At the morning service, which will be quite interesting, every service tomorrow is rosy indeed, and it would occasion no surprise should the figures of last Lord's Day be beaten. It is hoped to have not less than 100 at Bible school. Superintendent Charles M. Howland, who works early and late for the Bible school, reports that he will be a badly disappointed individual if the loyal souls have less than 100 present. Mr. Howland is teacher of that class and President Lloyd Craden has been giving him some favorable

FAMILY WITHOUT ANY FOOD FOR TWO DAYS

That Mrs. William Manuel, a blind woman, 607 Market street (rear) and her family had been without food for three days, was the word that reached police headquarters Saturday noon.

Officer Roy Moore was detailed to investigate and he found the reports were substantially true. The last morsel of bread in the little household disappeared Friday morning. Ashamed to make their wants known the family bore their suffering in silence until Saturday noon. No longer able to endure her hunger Mrs. Manuel acquainted her landlady Mrs. William McGowan of her predicament. She soon supplied them with provisions. Grocer Joe Frantz learning of the family's plight also brought them a basket of groceries. Mr. Manuel, aged 62, the head of the family, had been bedfast for two weeks with lumbago. He too had recently lost his position as teamster. Columbus Manuel, aged 26, who had been out of work for six weeks, and William, aged 15 years, who attends school, are sons while Charles Manuel, a married son, lives on the West Side.

GETS LOCKJAW FROM VACCINATION AND DIES

Lock-jaw was the cause of the death of one of South Webster's bright young men when Walter Hanes died at 12:30 o'clock Saturday noon, after a two days' illness. Three weeks ago he was vaccinated when small-pox cases were reported at Hales Creek and vicinity of South Webster. Lock-jaw later developed.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanes and was employed as a time-keeper at the South Webster plant of the Carlysle Brick Company. He was twenty-six years of age and his large number of friends were shocked to hear of his sudden death Saturday.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Wayne, Eugene and Abraham, of South Webster, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Yeley, of Scioto Furnace, and Merle Hanes, at home.

The funeral will be held some time on Monday.

To Open Millbrook

The Tribe of Ben Hur is perfecting plans for opening Millbrook park on Decoration Day.

The Marine club will give a play at the Casino. The Boy Scouts will also hold an interesting program and the Ben Hur girls drill team will give an exhibition. Besides there will be contests of all kinds. The committee on arrangements is composed of Joe Diener, chairman, Charles Miller, George Koerner, William Messmer and Garland Lewis.

The committee for the children's day exercises the first Sunday in June will be: Charles Miller, chairman, John Dever, George J. Miller, Mrs. Frank Hardgrove and Mrs. Corn Davis. The committee for Memorial Day, the second Sunday in June, will be: Henry Cline, chairman, Frank Hardgrove, George Pfeiffer.

'Check Is A Forgery' Says Boy's Father, Will Make It Good

BULLETIN

D. A. Preston arrived on N. & W. passenger train No. 15, accompanied by a brother. He hurried straightway to police headquarters and made arrangements to make good the amount of the check and his son will be released.

Ernest Preston, aged 20 years, the son of D. A. Preston, a prominent and wealthy Paintsville, Ky., man, was arrested Friday evening for alleged passing a forged check for $85.

Preston is accused of forging the name of his father, Capt. Fred Winters cashing the check for him at the latter's cafe, corner Second and Market streets. Several friends whom Winters first consulted had assured him that Preston was good for the amount and that the check was undoubtedly good but Winters later to satisfy himself called up the young man's father and found he had not drawn any check in favor of his son. He suggested that his boy be held until he could reach Paintsville which he said would be at 3 p. m. Saturday when he would make good all losses. The young man was located at the Biggs House by Officer Roy Moore and was locked up. He had spent all but $6 of the money.

Temporary Alimony

Friend Is Arrested

Lark Friend was arrested by Deputy Marshal Ike Wells, of New Boston Saturday noon on a warrant charging Friend of being a fugitive from justice.

D. H. Hall, of near Olive Hill, Ky., arrived in the village Friday evening and located Friend and swore out a warrant for his arrest. Friend who was arrested in connection with a robbery near Olive Hill was out on bond and left town while awaiting trial. It is claimed. He will be held for the sheriff of Carter county.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah Crabtree
Mrs. Sarah Crabtree wife of Harrison Crabtree of Duck Run on the West Side died about four o'clock Friday afternoon after a lingering illness with kidney trouble. She was 55 years of age. She was well known in Lanesville and vicinity.

Besides her husband she leaves three sons, Elmer, Eljah and William and two daughters, Mrs. McFann and a daughter at home. The funeral will be held from the home Sunday afternoon at Crabtree Postoffice. Interment in Martin cemetery near Crabtree P.O.

George Brown

George Brown, 70, died Friday night of stomach trouble, at the home of his son-in-law, Frank Pollard, a tenant of the Mike Sweeney farm on Pond Run. The family recently moved there from Adams county. The funeral will be held Sunday at Friendship.

Wm. F. Fagan

William M. Fagan, a resident of Fullerton, Ky., died Saturday morning at 5:50 o'clock, at the home of his brother-in-law, John R. Morton, of that village. His death was caused by heart trouble and followed a three-months' illness. Until six months ago Mr. Fagan was employed in Pittsburgh, but prior to this he was a well-known and highly esteemed resident of this city. He was about 62 years old; and in addition to his faithful wife, Mrs. Nancy Fagan, leaves one son, A. W. Fagan, of Fullerton, and two brothers, James and Samuel Fagan, and one sister. Mr. Fagan was well known in and around Fullerton and he was a splendid citizen, a type of man that that village can ill-afford to lose.

Father Schneider Funeral

The funeral of Father John J. Schneider will be held from St. Joseph's church in Ironton Monday morning at nine o'clock. The body will be taken from the parish house to the church Sunday afternoon, at two o'clock, where it will lie in state until the funeral Monday morning. After the funeral street car service will be furnished free to those who desire to attend the burial in Calvary cemetery. This was announced yesterday by Mr. Allen Thuma, manager of the Ohio Valley Electric Railway Co., who was a very close friend of the deceased priest.

Mrs. Susan Lawson

Death entered our midst and took from our home our mother, Mrs. Susan Lawson, aged 74 years. She had been sick for about six months, having undergone an operation from which she seemed not to entirely recover. She passed away Friday, April 23, 1915 at half past ten o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Davis, at New Boston, where she has been for four months to be near her physician, and in the care of her daughters. She was well known in the county surrounding her home and also by many in and around Portsmouth and New Boston, and was respected and loved by all. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Thomas Lawson, whose age is 80 years, and at this time is in a very feeble condition, also by six children, two daughters and four sons, W. F. Lawson, of Frost, Ky., a well known market gardener; S. H. Lawson and S. R. Lawson, both farmers at Frost; C. B. Lawson, of Silem; Mrs. Rebecca Davis and Mrs. Mattie Tibbs of New Boston, Ohio; also by one sister and two brothers, Mr. C. B. Hitchcock and Mr. Jeff Hitchcock of Frost, Ky. The funeral service will be held at the Mt. Zion, Ky., church Sunday afternoon at one o'clock in charge of Rev. Barton. The funeral service will be directed by Undertaker Daehler of Portsmouth.

SCOUT CONFERENCE GETS FINE START

The Boy Scout Conference at Sciotoville got a very auspicious start last night, the M. E. church being packed to the doors with Scouts, interested parents and friends. It was indeed an inspiring sight to those who sat on the rostrum to look down into the bright faces of the hundred delegates; boys who had come early, so as to get all the good they could out of this opening session. Over 30 of the delegates are camped in tents, the rest being entertained in the homes of Sciotoville Scouts.

Promptly at 7 p. m. Scout Howard Lowrey blew the assembly call and in less than fifteen minutes the commodious auditorium of the church was filled. Rev. A. B. Johnson, pastor of the Sciotoville M. E. church, called the convention together, and introduced the chairman of the evening, Robert Samson, president Scioto County Boy Scout Association. After invocation by Rev. Johnson the Boy Scout Brass Quartet played a beautiful selection. Harold Dever, a prominent Sciotoville Scout, then delivered the address of welcome to the visiting delegates, which was responded to very ably by Harry Wagner of Portsmouth.

Every tiny infant makes life's perspective wider and brighter. And whatever there is to enhance its arrival and to ease and comfort the expectant mother should be given attention. Among the most helpful things is an external abdominal application known as "Mother's Friend." There is scarcely a community but what has its enthusiastic admirer of this angelic embrocation. It is so well thought of by women who know that most drug stores throughout the United States carry "Mother's Friend" as one of their staple and reliable remedies. It is applied to the abdominal muscles to relieve the strain on ligaments and tendons.

Those who have used it refer to the ease and comfort experienced during the period of expectation, they particularly refer to the absence of nausea, often so prevalent as a result of the natural expansion. In a little book are described "Mother's Friend," the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend indeed to women with timely hints, suggestions and hints for ready reference. It should be in all homes. "Mother's Friend" is sold in almost any drug store, but if you fail to find it write in direct and you will have it sent to you. Write to J. H. Schenck & Son, 403 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

While the judges were deliberating Mr. Harry Porter, well known local comedian, entertained the audience. He never made a greater hit.

Mr. Henderson announced the decision in favor of the negative side and while on his feet gave the Scouts, to whom he is greatly endeared, one of his farewell talks.

The Boy Scout Quartet closed the evening's program with another good selection.

Today's program consists of a discussion of Scout problems at the morning session; field meet and ball games this afternoon; and closing session tonight at 7 o'clock. A full receipt of these events will be given in detail in Monday's Times.

Looks Like Murderer

Acting Desk Sergeant Delbert Campbell thinks that a young negro who was given lodging at the city prison Thursday night answered the description of the man who murdered Policeman James O'Neill in Cincinnati last week. He had expected to hold him for investigation and after learning he had been released along with other lodgers caused a search to be made for him Friday night, but the fellow was nowhere to be found.

G. A. R. Pays Honor To Late D. P. Pratt

Resolutions of respect to the memory of their late comrade, D. P. Pratt, will be drafted by a committee of members of Bailey Post, G. A. R., appointed Friday evening by Commander Cread S. Milstead. The members of the committee are W. H. H. Montgomery, Dr. P. J. Kline and Alex. Allen. The late Mr. Pratt was an active and enthusiastic member of the Post, and took a leading part in all its councils, so that his absence will be greatly missed.

George Phillips was elected as alternate to the State Encampment at Mansfield, Friday evening, to take the place left vacant by the death of Mr. Pratt. The deceased was elected as a delegate to the Encampment several weeks ago.

A camp fire session followed the regular meeting, in which the majority of the members took part. Speeches were made by Capt. Cread S. Milstead, W. H. Williams and others. Mrs. Boyd gave an interesting account of how the soldiers' national home at Dayton is managed, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present.

Visiting Here Mrs. Charles Jackson, colored, of Columbus, is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Ross, of 1313 Twelfth street, before going to Oakland, Cal., where she will spend most of the summer.

THE VEETOE

Here follows is one of the real ones. Tan or black, rubber sole on an inner last that has plenty of toe room. Just a little the best export in town for $3.50 at BAKER'S, 815 Gallia St.

Mr. Kennedy Back

Wade Kennedy, who has been on a business trip through the South for the Irving Drew Shoe company will arrive home Sunday. He has been looking over the conditions in the south and has called on some of the firm's heaviest buyers in the cotton belt.

Rents Office

Wilson McCain, local representative of the Pittsburgh Life Insurance company has rented the room in Ed Shump's suite in the First National bank building formerly occupied by Dr. W. A. Braglin.

Package Delivery

J. M. Drennon, a former telegraph operator, has just embarked in the city package delivery business.

LOCAL GERMAN'S VIEW OF THE WAR

By Major Lewis F. North, Former Editor of The Correspondent

Friday, April 23, 1915.

According to "London" Lord Kitchener's great "spring drive" is now a reality. Neuve Chapelle was a nightmare, and the British are forcing the Germans from post to pillar, from the coast all the way to Lille, while the French are just as active at the other extremity of the line, but the German war office, which is credited with some reliability, says: "The Allies' claims of big successes in the West are inventions, their attacks on the whole line from Ypres to Compiègne broke down."

The fighting at Ypres, however, continues, principally for the possession of a height, No. 60, which commands the road to St. Eloy. London asserts the British took the hill last Saturday, and the Germans try to regain it, but the French war office only commits itself to the capture of a trench on the hill. General French again acknowledges severe losses, "although not as high as those of the attackers." He says, "We are prepared for heavy sacrifices in our task." He has now 36 divisions on the firing line, as stated by Lloyd George in Parliament, about 540,000 men, which corresponds with the German estimate.

While the British held south of Ypres the Germans started an offensive north of it from Stenacstrat, stormed the British positions, advanced five miles and took Langemark and Tilke with 1600 prisoners. Berlin compares this victory to Snioons.

Heavy fighting is also reported from the valley of Esch river in Upper Alsace. Berlin says it: "The French were forced to evacuate Sulzheim, Kibbel and Stossweiler on the mountain road from the German frontier to Geradmer. Our troops have regained the road to Lunaville, west of Arcourcourt and south of the Rhine-Rhone Canal, which they had to evacuate last September on their retirement from Marne to Aisne. This enables them to straighten out their front to Verdun, retaken some weeks ago."

According to the German war office new attacks of the French at Thirey, Woeyro plateau, on a long front were repulsed with heavy loss to them; and the Germans have gained more ground in the Jura forest at Mithel, which brings them again to a stretch nearer to Verdun.

Berlin and Vienna are of the opinion that the cessation of the Russian offensive in the Carpathians, which is laid to weather conditions by Petrograd, really means a breakdown, as the Russian statement is followed by the report that large reinforcements, 600,000, are on the way to meet a new German army of 250,000, coming from Cracow and now on the Danube at Tarnow. Latest reports, which came to Berlin on Thursday last, announces the complete evacuation of all the positions the Russians held around Tarnow, an important railroad center, which would open the way to the Germans for a flank attack on the Russians on the Biala river.

A fierce Russian attack on the right flank of the Austrians in the Bukovina forest region was repulsed by them. They took 3,000 prisoners. The Austrian war office says: "The enemy has failed in all his attempts to force our most important positions for the protection of the Onulava, Jaborova and Ling valleys in Northern Hungary."

Berlin transmits the final report of the Austrian general staff about the four weeks' fighting in the Carpathians in which is said, "The gigantic struggle has ended with a complete Russian defeat. They brought 2 1/2 million men (7) to the Carpathian front for an invasion of Hungary, which has completely failed with losses of which the invaders will never recover. Their hospitals are overcrowded and conditions are fearful with them, as captured officers tell."

By intimations from Allied sources Russian and French English forces are to co-operate in a land attack on Constantinople, soon to be made in conjunction with the fleet, the first by way of Midia, the latter on the Gallipoli route.

Constantinople reports: "An enemy torpedo flotilla attempted to approach the Dardanelles but was driven back. The English submarine 'E. 15' was sunk by our fire on Kephess Reef searching for the mine field. The British battleship 'Majestic', which attacked our outpost batteries, was hit by three shells. The 'Swift' took her place and continued the bombardment but without any results whatever. German aviators destroyed a British collier."

Constantinople reports: "The Turks have achieved new victories in Caesarea and now occupy all roads to Batum."

The British have occupied Figs, the Turkish port on the Aegean sea, near the Bulgarian frontier, after a land and sea attack.

Enver Pasha, the Turkish Secretary of war, assured a correspondent of the Associated Press, that Turkey now has a well equipped army of two million men. He said it is an idiotic undertaking to force the Dardanelles. The ships of a fleet can only pass the narrow in single file and few will be left if they try it.

Berlin has advised that a British expedition, which attempted to invade German East Africa was driven off with the loss of 700 men, but both the English Boer, has taken Keetmanshoop in Southwestern Africa, as London has it. Both incidents show that the Germans are fighting in Africa.

A correspondent, writing from Surabaja, India, who was an eye witness of the mutiny of the Indian troops in Singapore, says it was far more serious than described in first reports and had to be put down by French and Japanese marines, who were landed from their ships. A mutiny in Hongkong was squelched in the start and the leaders shot. Unrest is general among the Indian troops.

From Peshawar on the India-Afghanistan frontier tribal raiding among the Mohammedans are reported, which were put down by General Young, who drove the rebels into the hills.

The first battle in the skies between German and French aircraft, in which a large number were engaged, among them two Zeppelins, and which ended with a German victory, has taken place at Loersch on the Swiss-German frontier near Basel.

The late Zeppelin raids in Northumberland, Durham and Kent are considered mere reconnaissance by the English military authorities and the people are warned to prepare for the real airship war yet to come.

At Friedrichshaven on Lake Constance, Zeppelin air cruises of a much larger type than the old ones are being built, two a month, each of them costs over half a million dollars.

So far Germany has received a good many concentrated goods by way of Holland. On call of the British the Netherlands government had to forbid the re-export to Germany. As a consequence the steamship traffic between Holland and Great Britain has been stopped, even the mail and passenger service.

In all the churches of Vienna thanksgiving services were held last Sunday for the relief of Hungary from the Russian invasion fear and the Austrian victories in the Carpathians. 30,000 people took part in a procession to the Cathedral where Cardinal Pilger offered thanks.

The Jewish population of the Russian Baltic provinces (German) has received notice to prepare for expulsion for political reasons, Berlin learns.

Liverpool commercial reports give the stock of wheat in storage on April 1 at 257,000 quarters against 410,000 on the same date last year.

Senior Aspertua writes from Paris to the Spanish paper "A. B. C." in Madrid: "From all the districts occupied by the Germans in Belgium and France come bitter complaints about suffering for want of food. But the starving people do not blame the Germans, they lay it to the English government for stopping the landing of provisions by sea."

Berlin hotel registers show the names of 87,864 foreign guests in March against 116,790 last year. Baron de Reuter, son of the founder of the Reuter Telegram Co., which flooded the country with false news at the beginning of the war, has shot himself. His father was a German and came as a poor boy to London.

Petrograd reports meat riots in the Russian capital. The Stockholm Dagbladet learns of bread riots in Siberia. There is meat and flour in abundance in Russia, but the people haven't the price.

The German Supreme Court has decided that prize courts have no final jurisdiction, in Great Britain, where navalism tops everything, they have.

Myra or six weeks ago the Chicago Tribune published in cable news that in Mainz (Mayence) 3,000 persons had died from starvation, whenupon a German hotel firm of the place sent a bill of fare to the editor on which the price of a complete roast beef dinner is given at one mark, 25 cents, dessert and trimmings included. You couldn't get it half as good for the money in the Chicago stockyards.

Lord Blandine designates the alleged statement of the Red Cross International Bureau in Geneva, which placed the total losses of the Allies during the war at over ten millions, as reckless and without any basis whatever, but fails to give figures.

The new Austrian landsturm levy (18 to 50) is designed for service behind the front.

The administration of the German prisoners camp at Koenigs-luette, Saxony, contradicts the London reports about a mutiny among the English and Belgian prisoners in consequence of shortness of food. A consular commission of neutrals which by request of the German government visited the different parts of the prison describes the conditions as good. Prisoners get the same fare as soldiers, in quantity as well as quality.

The Swedish author Bengt Berg describes the Russian soldiers of the line as good natured, big boys, but without any initiative, very tractable and always ready to do as they are told. He says: "It looks like a sin to march these simple minded people against men of whom every single one knows exactly what he is to do and does it right. The Germans treat them right as prisoners."

The great Polish pianist Paderewski is in the states, not on a professional tour but to assist in the collection of funds for his people who by his assurance are in a far worse plight than the Belgians, because they are continually between two fires. His own property has been entirely destroyed, he alleges.

The Turkish minister of war has declared in an interview that the Ottomans have as much cause to resent the sale of arms and munition to their enemies as their allies but that the question is not weighty enough to risk an open rupture with the United States, who cannot be held responsible for the selfishness of individual manufacturers that place business and profit above moral and humanitarian considerations. Suppose Turkey should make the question one of war, what could it do to the United States, and what other influence would that have upon the world conflagration than increase it, he says.

If an embargo on war material and provisions had been decreed at the beginning, as the European neutrals have done, that would have been less dangerous than to do it now after the implied threat of Great Britain that such would be considered a breach of neutrality, which our government cannot risk if it wants to keep out of trouble.

Public opinion may be against the gruesome harter on religious and humanitarian grounds and because the profit from it does not outweigh what American business and labor at large loose by the war, but individual gain is not open to patriotic considerations. The thing has to run its course. The tension between the two governments, if there is any, will be lifted as others have been. After the war nobody will ask of it any more. At the same time the American people are learning a lesson, that of the interdependence of the nations of the world, even if oceans divide them. The war goes to our pocket as well as to that of all Europe.

The former German Colonial Secretary Dr. von Dernburg, who is (unofficially) lecturing throughout the country on the German side, in a letter to a committee in Portland, Me., says: "Germany is not out for conquest, but for guarantees for future peaceful development. Above all it will demand freedom of the seas for England, the liberation of Poland from Russia and from France no more than a new strategic border correction, a point where Denmark missed it."

In a letter to the "Outlook" on the American attitude towards Germany a gentleman who introduced himself as a descendant of an early settler with to German affiliations, to whom the war in Europe is only of academic interest, expresses the hope that Germany will win, because she is the fairly slandered underdog.

"If Germany wins," he says, "it will be a triumph of efficiency and foresight, of a land of homes over a land of race suicide and commercial selfishness, a victory of Sparta over decadent Rome. The world needs a Germany, a believer in masculinism, to counter the effeminacy and nambypambyism that are leading to degeneracy and decay. America owes her greatness to the religious and moral character of her early settlers. But if it is true, as an English writer has recently tried to show, that Americans are bound to imitate the people of other nations the more they are thrown in contact with them we will be far, far better off if we choose thrifty, honest, self-sacrificing Germany for a model than Paris or London. French art, life and morals may be all right in a proper environment, but when grafted on the stern Anglo-Saxon the result makes one weep."

Professor Rudolf Eucken, of Jena University, in a lecture delivered at Vienna on the world war expressed these views on Russo-German antagonism: "In spite of all the attacks made on us we have kept up our courage, are cheerful and steady. We have by this time thoroughly learned the importance of the state and military organization, the interdependence and correlation of the various forces in the body politic. Our cause is great and just. At all times belligerent nations have derived inexhaustible courage from that consciousness."

The British Empire has a population of 500 millions, Russia has about 400, France with her African possessions about 90, Japan about 50, the smaller allies, Serbia, Belgium, Montenegro and Portugal, 10 millions to draw from for war strength, and yet they have not lowered Germany, neither by night nor starvation, but are running after Italy, the Balkan states, Spain, the Netherlands, and even little Norway for help. It is a spectacle for the gods to weep or laugh at.

Nothing about the Italian ultimatum to Austria today, may be tomorrow.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated, this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver, and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath, bad throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food, passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless, "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "sides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Tells About The Needs Of Belgium

A fair crowd turned out at the high school Friday evening to hear and see an illustrated lecture on present conditions in war-stricken Belgium, given by John C. McCrehen, assistant secretary of the Ohio Commission for the Relief of European War-Sufferers. The pictures shown on the screen were taken since the fields of the little kingdom were devastated by the ravages of war, and showed to what a barren waste they had been reduced.

Emphasis was laid by the speaker on the fact that the Belgians do not need clothing, but food-stuffs. Envelopes were passed through the audience for contributions to relief work, which can be returned to Maurice A. Cox, the local secretary. An office will be established in the old Gallia street Excelsior factory building next Monday, which will be kept open one week for contributions. It is hoped to secure enough to fill a car of foodstuffs from this city. All money contributed will be spent in Seixto county. The Ohio ship to Belgium leaves New York during the middle of May, and the car load from Portsmouth will be loaded on that ship.

At the close of Mr. McCrehen's lecture, the United States and Belgian national airs were played and sung by the audience.

Forced Sale of Furniture

The creditors of the East End Furniture Co., demand a quick settlement of their claims and while we as receivers realize that their assets are away in excess of their liabilities we nevertheless, acting under court orders, are compelled to sacrifice and turn into cash their stock even if it goes for less than cost of manufacture.

We have filled the windows full of merchandise at prices manufacturers declines to sell at.

The sooner we turn this stock into cash the better it is for all concerned, and the alluring merchandise we are displaying at phenomenal prices at a time of year when every home needs just such goods, puts us in a very optimistic mood that our estimates of the judgment of the people of Portsmouth for values will not be disapproved in the present instance.

We offer a $40,000.00 stock and we have made prices that ought to turn it into cash in 30 days.

The stock is so large and varied that it would be useless to try and list same in this small article, but we think by simply calling the attention of the public to dire necessity of this merchandising being turned into immediate cash is sufficient to convince prospective purchasers that an investigation would be worth while.

N. & W. SAYS IT IS READY TO GO AHEAD

"I have just received word from the officials of the Norfolk and Western railway that they will begin work on the Lawson Run viaduct in the East End just as soon as the city council takes final action on the resolution recently passed providing for the construction of the viaduct and for the abandonment of Kendall avenue as a grade crossing," said Attorney Henry T. Baunton, Saturday.

Similar word was also received by Councilman Edward Shump and the N. & W. is determined to have actual work on the proposed Lawson Run viaduct, which is to extend from Gallia and Young streets on the north to New Eighth street on the south, to begin as soon as possible. The way or vetoed a resolution which declared council's intention not to interfere with the elimination of the Kendall avenue grade crossing by the N. & W. after the completion of the overhead crossing.

TRIAL SERMON

Rev. J. F. Detweiler of Cambridge, Ohio, will preach at both morning and evening services at Kendall Avenue Baptist church Sunday. Rev. Detweiler comes as a candidate for the pastorate of the church. Kendall Avenue church has been without a pastor since Rev. Melton resigned several months ago.

Rev. Detweiler will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell of Highland avenue while here.

Good Boy Wants Job

One of the industrious youths who has been carrying The Times, a boy 16 years of age, is forced through economic reasons to quit school and is looking for a permanent "job." J. Wesley Gableman, circulation manager of The Times, says he will recommend the boy as honest, industrious, and capable. Anyone having a position for the boy can call Mr. Gableman, phone 446.

PICTURE OF "THE BOYS"

Jacob P. Pindels, the popular scintles of that time, who styled themselves "The Boys." Singularly enough all are still living. All too are successful in their chosen occupations and have without exception proven good citizens. They are Otto Zorlin, of Degwood Ridge, Charles Miller of Latonia, Ky., Geo. Zottman, Charles G. Brunner, Robert Barry, George Kah, Jake Pindels and Fred L. Doerr. All are of German descent save our own Bob, foreman of the Times composing room, who is an Irishman.

One Cent Letter Postage Being Agitated

One cent postage rate on letters is again being brought into prominence and many high officials declare that it is sure to come in the near future. All agreed of its adoption, and estimated statistics show there would be such an increased demand for stamps that the apparent loss of revenue would be more than made up.

It is an impossibility to place an estimated value on health, it being a priceless possession—but, perhaps, you have been careless or negligent and have allowed weakness to develop and you are now in a badly shattered condition with poor appetite, impaired digestion and constipated bowels.

In order to get back to health and strength you must first help Nature restore the stomach, liver and bowels to a normal condition. This suggests the friendly aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. You will find it an excellent tonic, purifier and strength maker and will appreciate its worth with confidence.

It is an absolutely pure medicine, adapted to all ordinary family ailments, and your health will be greatly improved by giving it a fair trial at once. Be sure you get the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with our Private Stamp over the

Shows Delayed

Some of the shows of the Greater Hippodrome Capital company have failed to arrive, having been side-tracked somewhere but are sure to be here by Monday. The street fair, however, will open this evening as originally scheduled.
